AWARDS AND RECOGNITION

The Melrose Police recognizes Officer DiFranza, Sergeant Byrne, and Officer Barranco who saved the life of a young boy after he suffered a serious leg injury Tuesday night. On Aug. 4, 2020 the Melrose Police Department was dispatched to the Winthrop Elementary for a reported leg injury. Officer Levi DiFranza and Sgt. Charles Byrne were the first on the scene and found that a 14-year-old male was impaled by the spikes at the top of a four foot fence, possibly hitting his femoral artery, after he tried to jump the fence to help an older woman who tripped on the sidewalk. Immediately, Officer DiFranza used his department-issued tourniquet to stop the bleeding and squeezed the pressure point while waiting for the Melrose Fire Department to arrive. Officer DiFranza had the boy focus on him rather than his injury, speaking in a low, calm voice to the victim, who remained conscious the entire time, while they waited. “I am beyond proud of the quick, decisive actions by Officer DiFranza, Sgt. Byrne and Officer Barranco,” Chief Lyle said. “They remained calm and focused during a very intense incident, and ultimately saved this young boy’s life and prevented a terrible tragedy. They are outstanding examples of the types of officers that make up the Melrose Police Department.”

The Melrose Police also recognizes Officer and SRO Applegate for initiating an Autism project that resulted in a new “Autism Awareness Vehicle” added to the Melrose Police Fleet. The Melrose Police Department has several members and their families for whom Autism Awareness resonates personally. This project started when Officer and SRO James Applegate coordinated with the Metropolitan Insurance Company who donated an abandoned vehicle to our community. Today’s Autobody took possession of this vehicle last fall and repaired it to LIKE-NEW condition, and 1st-IN-Grafix employed their creative skills to tastefully “mark” the vehicle as an MPD fleet vehicle. The owner of 1st-IN-Grafix, Sean Hogan, was the talent behind the design. This vehicle will be assigned to both SROs at the Melrose High School and Middle School Complex and will be used at all Community Events. (MPD FY20 Annual Report Cover Photo)

COMMUNITY POLICING

Community policing has always been a cornerstone of the Melrose Police Department. The Melrose Police Department looked forward to an eventful summer that kicked off in July with the Junior Police Academy. The Junior Police Academy was once again a tremendously successful program for the Melrose Youth. Funded entirely through donations and fundraising, the Melrose Police hosted three Junior Police Academies in the month of July 2019; students attended a one-week course under the direction of Sergeant Charles Byrne with the assistance from Officers James Applegate and Alan Brown. The overwhelming success of this community program would not have been possible if not for the support from the community as well as members of the Melrose Police Department. A total of 175 children attended this FY20 program.

Quality Policing Through Teamwork

During the FY20 summer months the Melrose Police hosted two successful Community Policing programs: “Bicycle Safety Month” and “National Night Out”.

The Melrose Police Department partnered with nine local businesses to organize the city’s first Summer Bicycle Safety Program. In August 2019, Melrose Police Officers rewarded local children who wore their helmets while they rode their bicycles, skateboards, roller blades, roller skates and scooters. Children “caught” wearing their helmets received a “citation” to redeem a free item from a local business. The program began on Tuesday, Aug. 6 and ended on Sunday, Sept. 1. The goal of this program was to recognize kids who were being safe and wearing their helmets, and to raise awareness about helmet laws and safety. The businesses that partnered with the Melrose Police Department on the bicycle safety program included: Gabriella’s Italian Pizzeria, Melrose House of Pizza, Lisa’s Pizzeria, Cloud Nine, Jeff Carbone Insurance Agency, Petrone’s Pizza, Kennedy’s Ice Cream Bar, Edward Jones and Common Market.

The second program was the annual “National Night Out”, held on the first Tuesday in August 2019. The purpose of this annual program is to enhance the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community, and provide a great opportunity to bring police and community together under positive circumstances. The theme for the FY20 National Night Out was “Touch a Truck”. The Melrose Police coordinated departments and local agencies to bring a sampling of their trucks and heavy equipment; the community enjoyed an up close look at these vehicles. There was tremendous participation from staff in each department or agency onsite to handle all questions residents had about the equipment, its purpose and share some educational “fun facts”. Melrose Fire brought their antique ambulance, and one of their Fire Trucks, Cataldo brought their newest ambulance, and DPW brought a sampling of their fleet. Local contractors D&R and Greenwood and Sons, brought dump trucks and equipment, and the 182nd National Guard Reserve brought a military ambulance and hummers. It was a spectacular array of vehicles and heavy equipment in Dills Court and the turnout by residents was sizeable.

As the youth headed back to school in fall 2019 and through the Halloween season, the Melrose Police were ever present in the daily lives of our residents and interacted with the children and their parents as usual. All department staff, from Lieutenants to Civilian staff engage our residents with the dual purpose, to Protect and Serve the Community of Melrose.

Another fun community event as our youth returned to school was “Pizza with the Chief”. Chief Michael Lyle and other members of the Melrose Police Department joined a group of children and their parents and guardians, for Pizza at Gabriella’s Italian Pizzeria on September 27, 2019. Pizza with the Chief was a prize given out as part of a fundraiser at the 2019 Victorian Fair, and the winner elected to bring the children along for the party. Along with Chief Lyle, high school resource officer Applegate and K-9 handler Officer Trainer took part in the evening’s festivities. The children, who ranged in age from kindergarteners to fourth graders, all took part in engaging conversation with the chief and officers. The youth demonstrated “floss” dancing, asked loads of questions about police work and were surprised by an appearance from K-9 Nero.

Unfortunately the COVID-19 Pandemic turned the whole world upside down soon after. In the midst of the pandemic, safety challenges in every community and across the country became paramount. The Melrose Police Department remained vigilant, trained and equipped to protect every citizen in the city of Melrose despite the contagion, and is committed to providing exceptional 24 hour service to its residents. Maintaining strong partnerships with the other communities in Middlesex County is vital to proactively address a virus that has no sense of border.

It has been a particularly difficult year with Social Security Scams and Unemployment Fraud Filings. It is relentless, and the Melrose Police have taken a report for every reported incident. Although these scams do not discriminate on age, the Melrose Seniors are predominantly vulnerable. Therefore, Police Chief Lyle and Fire Chief Collina met with residents at the Levi Gould/Fuller House to talk to them about how to recognize and respond to these scams that are plaguing all ages of our community.

The Melrose Police Department website continues to be a valuable source of information as well a key community policing strategy for communicating safety tips and alerts, and current messages and news blogs from the Chief. Online forms, safety guides and home safety tips are available for our tech-savvy community and serve as effective means for the community to reach out to the Melrose Police.

As the department moves forward with Community Policing, the Chief and all department staff will continue to support the resource commitments and initiatives instituted in the past whilst always striving to expand the services the police department provides to the residents of Melrose.

Melrose School Resource Officers (SRO)

The Melrose Police Department has two outstanding School Resource Officers; Officer Mann is the SRO for the Melrose Middle School, and Officer Applegate is the SRO for the High School. Both are actively integrated with the student population; they are advocates for them when needed, often time mentors and confidants, and if necessary, disciplinarians when student safety is in question or behavioral issues arise. Their presence within the Melrose Schools is vital and provides the Melrose Police an opportunity to work with the youth and help guide them as they mature and become responsible adults. Officer and SRO Applegate was recognized with a Super Bowl Ring by the Melrose High School Football Team.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES COMPLETED FY 2020

1. A commitment to support our community through advanced training; a continuation of the CIT program, all officers will attend CIT training at City Hall.

(note): Even though the Crisis Intervention Training (CIT) was not held as stated in this objective due to the COVID pandemic, each officer received de-escalation training as a segment in defensive tactics during their annual in-service training.

2. Established the first annual Bicycle Helmet Safety Month, where the Melrose Police Officers will reward the Melrose Youth when they were observed correctly wearing their helmet while riding a bicycle, scooter, skateboard, roller blades, etc.
3. Hosted a Bicycle Rodeo where Melrose Youth (ages 4-14) came and learned safe bicycle practices and maneuvering skills, and practiced on an obstacle course and received some free safety items.
4. The department was able to replace three law enforcement officers under unprecedented conditions.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES FOR FY 2021

1. The Melrose Police Department will secure funding to migrate to electronic citations (e-citations). The rationale for this is to reduce the amount of time expended during a car-stop.
2. The Melrose Police Department will seek funding from various sources to support a police training simulator to supplement our annual firearms qualification. This would also include scenario-based shooting where the officer received instant feedback from the trainers as far as his or her interaction during the simulation. This feedback will enable the department's efforts to support implicit bias training.
3. The Melrose Police Department will seek additional grant funding for enhanced de-escalation training.
4. Continue to advocate for additional law enforcement personnel.
5. Automate several of the standard "forms" on the Melrose Police Department Website.

Respectfully Submitted,
Michael L. Lyle
